

Bring on the Warm Weather

Right that's enough in terms of rain and cold weather. The joke's over, we get the message, time to turn the sun back on. September 1st is a good day to flick the switch.

A reminder that, as of today, students are required to wear hats outside at all breaks. We will have a grace period for the remainder of this week so they can be dug out from under the rain coats and umbrellas.