

Production is here

After many months of casting, rehearsals and ticketing challenges, Production is upon us. With performances planned for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night we are looking forward to sharing the outcome of our students' and teachers' hard work. Thank you to the community for supporting our students by buying the tickets to attend and for bringing their children to the performances each night.

There are still some tickets available for the Thursday night show if there are any people who are still looking or would like to invite grandparents or relatives.

Looking forward to a great show.
